

software boutique

AgileWorks is a software boutique that is developer owned and managed. We provide software development and consultation services based on agile principles.

Agile development process:

one of the main benefits of agile software development is that we deliver value much earlier

The functionality is released about 30-40% faster making it a "self-funding" project.

What can we do for you?

- software development — we create tailored software using agile methodologies and best practices. We believe that software should respond to the needs of business, and we know that business needs are constantly changing.
- UI/UX — good software also means a well-thought-out user interface (UI) and user experience (UX).
- code review — we look over your source code to determine any potential quality and security problems. Confidentiality guaranteed.
- consultation — maybe you have an idea for a product but you would like a professional opinion? Perhaps you need software that will increase productivity and decrease costs? Maybe you need to review an old code base or get a second opinion on estimates and contracts? Whatever the question, feel free to ask.

Benefits:

- short development cycles — we go from concept to implementation in 1-2 weeks and the outcome of each cycle is presented in the form of a working solution
- constant overview and feedback
- flexibility in terms of agreements, deadlines and budgets
- minimized risks

Some of our competencies:

intelligent search, process automation, cloud services, e-learning, digital identity/digital signatures, logistics/transport, collaboration tools, self-servicing
