EasyFS core banking services from Tietoevry

Future of core banking

Designed for financial institutions to provide services to their customers.

The financial sector and banking are undergoing fundamental changes and business agility is becoming a core capability to stay ahead. The simultaneous need for security and compliance with regulatory requirements makes this a balancing act.

With exponential growth, banks may struggle to operate and compete while using old mainframe solutions. Thanks to open banking, a vast amount of transactions in the future will flow through channels owned not by banks but third parties and fintech companies.

Easy Financial Services - EasyFS® core banking software enables open, modular and scalable banking services to stay ahead of the competition. It is designed as a "plug and play" banking solution, with API-first architecture and local integrations in place. It is easy to add for example NetBank, leasing, factoring, accounting and trade finance modules on a per need-basis.

Core banking experience

In the Baltics, we have decades of experience in core banking and leasing software and a proven track record of successful core banking software implementations. Internationally, Tietoevry is the market leader in financial services, at the forefront of reshaping and digitalizing core banking processes to improve customer experience and address efficiency challenges.

Our financial services and the modular, integrated, cloud-agnostic core banking software for the Baltic region empowers you with end-to-end tools to deliver products and services quickly, all while reducing development and deployment costs.
